THE MARK

The Kerf — 8.5 mm / 32 px and up

Solid, below 8.5 mm / 32 px

On dark: bone, not brass

A square of stock parted by one straightedge. The upper half is machined; its lower face is the true edge. The lower half is printed to the slope, so its face is a stair. The light between them is the kerf. The steps may close up at small sizes — the true edge and the kerf never do.

LOCKUPS

Horizontal — 60 mm / 230 px wide and up

Compact — down to 20 mm / 76 px wide

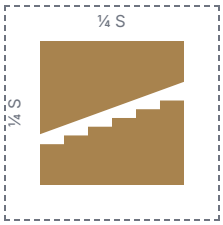

One colour — black laser, stamps, below 10 mm on white

Stacked — 30 mm / 115 px wide and up

CLEAR SPACE

Keep ¼ of the square's side clear on every side of the mark or any lockup. The files are cropped tight; the layout adds the margin. Nothing enters it.

PALETTE — INK & BRASS

Ink
#101C33

RGB 16 · 28 · 51
CMYK ≈ 90 / 75 / 40 / 70
Pantone ≈ 2767 C

Type, the wordmark, buttons, plates, one-colour print.

Brass
#A8834E

RGB 168 · 131 · 78
CMYK ≈ 32 / 45 / 78 / 8
Pantone ≈ 7557 C

The mark and hairlines only. Never type, never buttons. Not on dark.

Bone
#F4F1EA

RGB 244 · 241 · 234
CMYK ≈ 3 / 3 / 7 / 0
Pantone ≈ 7527 C at a light tint — or uncoated natural stock

Paper and panels. On ink, the mark and the name are bone.

Hex and RGB are the definition. CMYK and Pantone values are approximations — check them against a current swatch book or a press proof before committing a print run or ordering thread. Brass on white is about 3.5 : 1: fine for a mark, not for anything that must be read; below 10 mm on white use the one-colour ink file.
